

Company Statement Re: Tasty Bake Meat Products

Following the recent concerns within the British Meat Industry for residues of Horse DNA, we at Tasty Bake Ltd have sort assurances from our meat supply base that no horse meat or horse DNA residues can enter the Tasty Bake meat supply chain.

We have had assurances from our supply base that they do not process horse meat and do not purchase products that may have been produced in facilities that process horse meat.

In order to give further assurances we have tested products for horse DNA and all results have been negative.

We do not take this situation as the end of the matter and will be working closely with our supply base to further assure that horse and horse meat products do not enter our supply chain in the future.
